

Rules for the lay-up of your boat

- The removal from the water and lay-up of your boat are at your own risk. So make sure that your boat is properly insured even in the winter period. Winter lay-up will take place subject to the HISWA Terms and Conditions. These HISWA Terms and Conditions have been included below.
- Make sure that the keys to your boat are present on time at the location you mentioned on the winter lay-up form.
- Make sure that your power cable is disconnected from its power socket on the jetty or that the key to the electricity box is also in our possession.
- Make sure there are enough fenders and loose mooring lines on board and that they are accessible.
- At the time that you choose to place your ship in winter lay-up, you have to indicate in advance when you want to have it relaunched. We will then try to achieve this target date for you.
- You may not carry out work on your ship in the winter lay-up unit.
- Fill up the diesel tanks (or have them filled up) before entering the unit. Petrol and water tanks must be empty for lay-up and gas cylinders must be off board if your boat is laid up indoors.
- Rolfok covers and sails should be removed in connection with the wind if the boat is laid up outdoors.
- If you carry out work outdoors below the waterline, plastic foil should be placed under the boat to collect dirt and paint. After completion of the work, the floor must be vacuumed with a vacuum cleaner. Vacuum cleaners can be hired by appointment at the Service Center.
- The parts of the boat below the waterline may not be wet-sanded.
- Use only scrapers or sanders with direct dust extraction (i.e. no dust bag). If desired, scrapers can be hired at the Service Center.
Take into account the boats in the vicinity of your boat.
- The (temporary) removal of supports and blocks is not permitted.
- Main switches and all facilities on your boat must be switched off.

If you need a ladder or mobile scaffold tower, you can use it, if available, free of charge. Report to the Service Center for this purpose.

Reserving is not possible.

The material has been inspected, its use is at your own risk.

We kindly request you to take account of these rules. If you do not do so, any follow-up costs will be at your own expense.
